Many people don't think that TV shows are educational. It is true that lots of shows are meaningless.

However, some shows are good and we can learn many things from them. Here are a few of my favorite shows.

	When I was a child, this was the only show I could watch. I watched it on Monday, Wednesday and Sunday every week. You can learn about different countries around the world from it. As the show is for children, the language in it is easy.
	This show is about making bread, cakes and so on. The show wants to find Britain's best amateur baker (业余烘焙师). You can watch the show and learn how to bake different kinds of bread and cakes by following their steps.
	This show is about life in cold places. There are many special animals in this show. I love this show not because of the cute animals, but because it teaches us about the impact (影响) we have on these animals and what we need to do to save them.
	This show is great for you to think. It is a quiz (知识竞赛) show. It may be about sports, weather, movies and so on. I learnt lots of things from this show.

46. The writer watched Blue Peter _____ when he was a child.
- A. three times a week B. twice a week C. three times a month D. twice a month
47. _____ might be most interested in the show The Great British Bake Off.

 B. Blue Peter tells about different countries around the world
 C. the writer always watches The Great British Bake Off online
 D. the writer likes Frozen Planet because the language in it is easy
50. The passage is mainly written for _____.
- A. children B. teachers C. TV lovers D. the police

Malls are popular places for Americans to go to. Some people spend so much time at malls that they are called mall rats. Mall rats shop until they visit hundreds of stores.

People like malls for many reasons. They feel safe because malls have police stations. Parking is usually free. And the air inside is always fresh. The newest malls have beautiful rest places with waterfalls and large green trees.

The largest mall in the United States is the Mall of America in Minnesota. It covers 4.87 million square feet. It has more than 12, 530 stores and a large park! There are parking spaces for 12, 750 cars. About 750, 000 people shop there every week.

The first indoor mall in the United States was built at 1965 in Edina, Minnesota. People love doing all their shopping in one place. More malls are built around the country. Now malls are town centers where people come to do many things. They shop, and of course, they also eat in food courts that have food from all over the world. They see films at theaters. Some people even get their exercise by doing the new sport of “mall walking”. Others go to malls to meet friends.

In some malls, people can see a doctor and even go to church. In other words, people can do almost everything at malls. Now people can live in their favorite shopping centers in fact.

51. Those Americans _____ are called mall rats.

C. The malls are only in big cities. D. The largest mall is in Hong Kong.

C

Can you sing or dance? Can you ride a unicycle (独轮车)? Do magic tricks? Drink a glass of milk in ten seconds? Recite poems from memory? Well, you've got talent, my friend! And what better time to show it off than at the school talent show!

Middle school talent shows in the US happen every year. Whatever you're good at, you have five minutes to show the world. It's early in the school year and kids can become little celebrities (明星). The shy boy who spends his evenings practicing Spanish guitar will surprise his classmates with beautiful music. The sporty girl on the soccer team will wow (使惊叹) the crowd with her sweet singing voice. Everyone has a chance to shine.

Almost anyone can do almost anything in a talent show. As long as your act isn't rude or illegal (不合法的), it's a "go".

On the day of the show, all the students sit in the school gym, ready to cheer for the skills (技能) of their classmates.

Many of today's stars started their careers (事业) in school talent shows—Madonna, Britney Spears and Justin Timberlake all showed their skills early in life. Though you're not Justin Bieber, you can become a star in your own right at your middle school talent show.

56. Which of the following is TRUE about the school talent show in the US?

- A. It happens at the beginning of every term. B. A student has five minutes on stage.
C. Shy boys and quiet girls don't like it. D. There are many competitions.

57. What does the underlined word "it" in the first paragraph refer to?

- A. Talent. B. Magic. C. Memory. D. Skill.

58. You can't take part in the talent show if _____.

- A. you are a new student B. you can't play the guitar very well
C. your act is against the law D. you don't have a funny act

59. From the last paragraph, we know that _____.

- A. many of today's stars also took part in school talent shows
- B. not everyone can take part in the talent show
- C. you can't be as famous as Justin Bieber
- D. the talent show is the first step for all stars

60. What does the passage mainly talk about?

- A. American students' talent.
- B. Students' surprising changes.
- C. Stars' early careers.
- D. American middle school talent shows.

D

Helen Keller lived in the USA. She was a great woman.

When Helen was a baby, she got very sick. After many weeks, the doctor said, "She is better, but now she can't see and can't hear." Her mother and father were very sad.

After a few years, things got worse. There was no way for Helen to speak with other people. She heard nothing. She saw nothing. She didn't understand anything.

Then one day a teacher came to live with Helen and her family. The teacher helped Helen learn about words. Helen was a very bright child and soon she learned to spell her first word. When she was older she went to college.

Helen was very famous. She helped many blind (盲) and deaf (聋) people. She traveled around the world and helped many people.

Chinatown is the name of an area (地区) in the middle of London. It is a large Chinese community (社区) with a lot of Chinese restaurants, Chinese supermarkets and shops.

In the 1950s, it was a poor area. Everything was very cheap. At the same time, the world rice market became bad and thousands of farm workers in Hong Kong lost their jobs. They began going to London to look for work. They found jobs in the restaurants in this area.

These restaurant workers often worked 17 hours a day and had no time to learn English. As more Chinese arrived, more shops and businesses grew up. Women came to join their husbands and children came to join their fathers. The community grew, and Chinatown was born.

In the 1970s and 1980s, British-born Chinese started to have a better education (教育) and this brought economic success to the area. Many families moved out of Chinatown, and there was more space for businesses.

Chinatown soon became a popular place for tourists.

Now everyone knows about London's Chinatown. During the Chinese New Year, the streets are full of flags and thousands of Chinese go into the streets. For most time of the year, though, Londoners and tourists go there mainly for the food in the Chinese restaurants. The best restaurants are the ones where the Chinese eat.

76. How was Chinatown in the 1950s?

77. Who lost their jobs and went to London to look for jobs in the 1950s?

78. Why didn't the restaurant workers have time to learn English?

79. When did British-born Chinese start to have a better education?

80. What do Londoners and tourists go to Chinatown mainly for?
