Group Activities for Your Teens (青少年)

Keeping your children and their friends engaged (忙的) may not be easy. So, if you are planning a party or any other event, we have some group activities for teens that will interest them and teach them something new.

1. ▲ _____

If you are looking for a group activity for teens who don't know each other that well, this one will fit the bill.

- Get teens to write down a few things about themselves.

- Read out the list and have the teens guess the writer.

2. Do a Dare

Teens sit in a circle. Spin (使快速旋转) a bottle and whoever the top of the bottle points at has to do something silly or funny as directed by the others. Task suggestions:

- Wear your socks on your hands for the next three rounds.
- Act like your favorite teacher for the next 30 seconds.

3. Chair Racing

You do need space for this activity. Chair racing is fun as well as challenging. Divide the group into two teams. Now ask one member of the team to sit on a chair while the others carry it to the finish line!

55. In which part of a magazine can you read the passage?

- A. Health. B. Sports. C. Travel. D. Play.

(B)

A new way of travelling will appear in the next few years—flying taxis. Many of us grow up watching sci-fi movies with taxis flying in the air. Science stories are now becoming science facts.

The Japanese airline ANA has teamed up with a U.S. business called Joby Aviation. The two plan to start using flying taxis at the 2025 World Expo in Osaka. They are now working together on making the flying taxis. They need to work out what traffic rules the taxis will need to follow, and what kind of training flying taxi drivers will need. The five-seat, all-electric taxi will be able to take off and land directly. It can fly up to 241 kilometers and can reach 321 kilometers per hour.

Joby Aviation’s CEO said that the taxis would be good for the environment because they will help decrease (减少) people’s carbon footprint (碳足迹). Now it takes over one hour by car to get from Osaka Station to Kansai International Airport. But in the future, it will only take 14 minutes in a flying taxi.

“Japan badly needs flying taxis with most people living in urban areas, and Tokyo is one of the most crowded cities in the world,” Joby Aviation’s CEO said. The chairman of ANA said, “Being able to provide customers with the chance to travel quickly and safely is very wonderful.”

56. What can we learn about the flying taxis?

- A. It’s powered by gas.
- B. It can hold five people.
- C. It has been made successfully.
- D. It can reach 241 km/h at most.

57. What does the underlined word “urban” in Paragraph 4 mean?

- A. Rich.
- B. Poor.
- C. Village.
- D. City.

58. What is Paragraph 3 mainly about?

- A. People’s opinions on flying taxis.
- B. The advantages of flying taxis.
- C. Reasons for flying taxis’ appearance.
- D. The problems flying taxis will bring.

59. What does the CEO mean in the last paragraph?

- A. Japan’s traffic situation is very bad now.
- B. Tokyo’s transportation is very convenient.
- C. Japan is in great need of flying taxis.
- D. Most people like living in big cities like Tokyo.

60 Which can be the best title for the passage?

- A. Interesting Science Stories
- B. Traffic Rules Taxis need to follow
- C. Environment-Friendly Travel
- D. Taxis Flying in the Air
