Kids in British schools can do many sports. Here are several students talking about their school sports.

Graig Hopkins

I love playing football and cricket(板球). My favorite sport is rowing. There is a big lake near my school, and we go there once a week to row. I'm in the school team and two or three times a year we row against teams from schools in other parts of the country.

Julia

I'm not in any team, but I can swim, play tennis and baseball at school. I love orienteering(越野识途比赛) most! In orienteering, you have to run and run—but you have to find where to go, too! You have a map and a compass(指南针), and you have to get to a place as fast as possible. It's great fun.

Brendan

I have played handball with Newcastle Tigers for nearly two years. It's a very enjoyable team sport. This year I won the best player of the year award. I also joined a handball club at school and some other school sports.

51. How often does Graig Hopkins row in the lake near their school?

　　A. Two or three times a year. 　　　　　　B. Once a week.

B

Now Chinese movies have become one of the favorites among the young people in Malawi(马拉维). Many people can enjoy them in video show halls, homes and through the Internet.

Luis Ndalama, 38, is a businessman who has been doing a videodisc(影碟) business for over 15 years. He told Xinhua News Agency(新华社) his customers have been watching Chinese movies for a long time. However, because they didn't understand Chinese, many of them used to have difficulties in following the movies. "But with time, we have seen many Chinese movies with subtitles(字幕), and this helps many of my customers to understand them even better. " Ndalama said.

In an interview with Xinhua, many young people were able to explain things they learned from movies about China. "It's always fun watching Chinese movies. At first it was very hard to understand them. Because everything about them and us was different in terms(词语) of language, food, dressing, dances and many other cultural values. But now, there are a lot of things that I know about China through movies. For example, I know about Kung Fu, the Great wall, food like Biang Biang noodles and many other interesting things about China," Khama said.

54. What can we say about the young people in Malawi?

    A. They are interested in making movies.

    B. They show great interest in Chinese movies.

    C. They prefer to do business with Chinese people.

    D. They think it difficult to communicate in Chinese.

55. What does the underlined word "them" in Paragraph 3 refer to?

    A. Customers.   B. Movies.

    C. Subtitles.   D. Interviews.

56. What is the last paragraph mainly about?

    A. Chinese movies are popular in the world.

    B. More and more people start to study in China.

    C. Chinese movies help foreigners learn about Chinese culture.

    D. Lots of foreign people were interviewed by Xinhua Agency.

Some animals can easily find their way home after a long journey. How do they make it? Scientific research shows that they are born with certain unusual abilities for direction.

A certain kind of ants, for example, can count their steps to avoid getting lost. They can go as far as 110 metres and bring food home. These ants live in the open desert, so they have nothing to guide them along the way. It's like someone walking six kilometres through a dark forest.

Some fish have an unbelievable(不可思议的) sense of smell. They can smell even a single drop of their home water in a large sea area. Some sea birds have a similar ability. They are able to make a smell map of their flying area.

Some animals can sense the earth's magnetic field (磁场), while humans can't. This magnetic field guides a certain kind of fish when they swim a long way to a place and then back. How can this kind of fish do that? It is still a mystery. Scientists have no good answers yet.

However, animals with such unusual abilities still have difficulty dealing with environmental changes caused by human activities. For example, many birds depend on stars for direction, but they get lost easily at night when city lights are kept on all night. To solve this problem, we can simply(仅仅) turn off some lights at night. Clearly, one small act of humans may mean a lot to animals.

57. Where is this passage most probably from?

　　A. A storybook.　　　　　　　　　　　B. An art magazine.

　　C. A guidebook.　　　　　　　　　　　D. A science magazine.

58. How can a certain kind of ants find their way?

　　A. By imagining the way.　　　　　　　B. By counting their steps.

　　C. By bringing food together.　　　　　D. By walking through a forest.

59. What are people advised to do according to the last paragraph?

　　A. To help animals.　　　　　　　　　　B. To travel at night.

　　C. To keep city lights on.　　　　　　　D. To develop unusual abilities.

60. Which can be the best title for the passage?

　　A. Birds Sense of Light　　　　　　　　B. Fish's Sense of Smell

　　C. Animals' Sense of Direction　　　　D. Animals' Sense of Magnetic Field

It's believed that children are too young to fully appreciate (欣赏) the experience and knowledge of their elders, while many think that old people don't understand the young. But in fact, both groups have a lot to learn from each other.

James Smith manages the Smith's Care Home in my city. It is mainly an organization for serving the elderly（老年人）. But not all of its visitors are old people. The home also includes a childcare center for pre-school (学龄前的) kids. There is a playground in the care home, where the elderly can play with the kids. In this way, they can learn more about each other, and respect and understand one another.

I think this is quite an interesting idea. For one thing, we live in a world where there are more and more old people. The world is facing this problem and its population ages. It will be important for young people to be able to understand and care for the elderly in the coming years.

It is a pity that my own grandparents weren't around when I was little, as they had already passed away. I never got to learn what the world was like through their eyes. or what kinds of problems they might have faced when they were my age. To me, their lives will always be a mystery.

However, I think I can still learn from other people of older generations(一代人). I might find some of their ideas out of date, and they might believe that my generation's way of thinking is strange or incorrect. But we can still learn from each other anyway.
