Hu Ming, a Guizhou University teacher, whose 85-year-old mother has Alzheimer's disease (阿尔茨海默病), has to take his mother to class with him. And he has done this for years.

Maybe you will say he can have some other people take care of his 1. Indeed, he has sisters. But they 2 do it because his mother only recognizes him. And she 3 him wherever he goes. He also tried a nurse but failed.

"My mother's illness was 4. She drank dishwater, and she mistook washing powder(洗衣粉) for salt or sugar." explained 58-year-old Hu. "I couldn't imagine she stayed at home without me and that always made me 5, so I began to take her with me to class." "With my mother sitting 6 in class, I was able to pay more attention to teaching," Hu added. But still, there are many different voices. Then Hu told a 7.

A son took his mother, old and 8, to a restaurant for dinner. While eating, the mother dropped the food 9, on her shirt and trousers, the table, the chair and the floor. Other people watched her in disgust(厌恶) while the son was 10.

When the mother 11 eating, the son quietly took her to the washroom, cleaned the food on the clothes, smoothed her hair and fitted her glasses. When they came out, all the people were 12 them. Without saying anything or watching anybody, the son walked 13 to pay the bill and started walking peacefully out with his mother.

At that time, an old woman called out to the son and asked him, "Don't you think you left something behind you?"

The son thought for a few seconds, "No, madam, I didn't." he replied.

The old woman said, "Yes, you did! You gave a lesson to every son and 14 to every mother."

"To care for those who once 15 for us is our duty. I am a son, and what's wrong with being the hope for my mother?" Hu said.

Every evening the young Fisherman goes out on the sea. He throws his nets into the water. When the wind blows from the land, he doesn't catch 16 fish. But when the wind blows from the sea, he catches lots of fish and he can sell them at the market.

One evening the Fisherman's net is very heavy. He thinks, "Are all the fish in the sea in my net? 17 is there a monster in my net?" He pulls and he pulls his net.

There are no fish or monsters in his net. But there is a little Mermaid and she is 18.

The Mermaid's 19 is golden. Her body is white. Her tail is silver and pearl. Her ears are like sea-shells and her lips are like sea-coral.

Her beauty makes the Fisherman very happy. He leans out of the boat. He takes the Mermaid in his arms. She wakes up 20 he touches her. She cries like a seagull and she wants to escape. But the Fisherman holds the Mermaid in his arms.

"Please free me," the Mermaid cries. "I am the 21 daughter of the King. My father is old and alone."

"Make me a promise," says the Fisherman. "I 22 free you. But please come when I call you. You can sing to me and to the fish. Then my nets can 23 be full of fish."

“I promise,” cries the Mermaid.

The fisherman opens his arms and frees the 24 Mermaid. She swims down under the water.

Every evening the Fisherman goes out on the sea. He calls the Mermaid. She 25 the water and sings to him. The dolphins swim round and round the Mermaid. The seagulls fly round and round the Mermaid.

The Mermaid sings and sings. All the fish come from the 26 of the sea to listen to her. The Fisherman throws his nets into the sea. His nets and boat are full of fish. Then the Mermaid 27 singing. She smiles at the Fisherman and she swims back under the sea.

Every evening the Fisherman calls the Mermaid. And every evening she sings for him. But she does not come 28 him. The Fisherman tries to touch her. But she swims back under the sea. Every evening the Fisherman listens to the Mermaid. Her song and her 29 are sweet to his ears. And the Fisherman forgets his nets and the fish. His eyes are full of 30.

Rob Frenette had problems with bullies (霸凌) at school for eleven years. He was always lonely and 31 until one day he was fifteen. He had had enough of the 32 and decided to do something about his problems. He walked into a 33 office and told them about the bullying. The news reporter was shocked and soon his story went into the newspaper and all the TV stations in Canada wanted to talk to him about his 34. They also wanted to hear his ideas to stop bullying.

After that, Rob continued his 35 at school and got better marks in them. But in his free time, he helped 36 with bullying problems. With a friend Katie Neu, he made a website called www.bullyingcanada.cn.

Visitors to the website can find stories, poems and advice about bullying, in both English and French. When people are 37, they can talk on telephone or online to Rob and his team. Every weekend Rob has to 38 e-mails to the people in need on the website. He also talks to children and teachers, even the members of 39 around the country, about bullying, to make laws to stop school bullies.

Rob's most important message is: "When bullies are unkind to you, it isn't your fault. There's 40 wrong with you, so you should try to keep 41 yourself. You should be brave yourself. And remember that there are people 42 your problems. What you have to do is just to find those people."

One of Rob's ideas is "Blue Day", a 43 day for stopping bullying in schools. It is called a "Blue Day" because 44 that day students have to wear blue clothes and in class they learn how to stop bullying. More than 150 Canadian schools now 45 Blue Day, but Rob won't stop until there's a Blue Day in every school in Canada.

(2023·江苏淮安·统考一模) When I was a little girl, all I wanted to do was play. Sometimes, I 46 forgot to do my homework. Of course, my class teacher wouldn't turn a blind 47 to this. At that time, I wondered 48 she could spend so much time supervising (监督) me. Didn't she have 49 else to do? So my biggest wish then was to become a 50, for it seemed that a teacher never needed to do any work.

But later, I took more 51 of my class teacher's life. To my great surprise, she was much 52 than I had thought. Whenever I saw her in her office, she would be busy 53. Sometimes, she was correcting 54 test papers; sometimes, she was having a heart-to-heart talk with a student; sometimes, she was preparing for her 55. It seemed she 56 had time to take a rest!

I felt curious as to why my teacher was always able to be so 57, though she was busy all day long. Gradually, I realized that teaching was a rewarding job. It brings a teacher a sense of 58 to be able to nourish (培育) many young minds. A teacher would always feel 59 upon seeing his or her students go from expressing puzzlement to understanding all the difficult points.

60 being a teacher can be tiring, I still want to be a teacher. Perhaps I have a long way to go, but I will keep fighting for this dream.

(2023·江苏宿迁·统考二模) Every school has rules for students to follow. However, some students may see the 136 as a way that teachers control them. Sometimes, they're unhappy and even feel 137. Well, if you think your life is hard, you might think about the 138 in ancient times. For some of them, life was really 139.

In the old days, people believed that teachers had to be very 140 and had the right to punish the students. Parents didn't mind if teachers punished their children when their children didn't do what they were 141 to do. Often, the stricter a teacher was, 142 parents thought he or she was a good teacher.

In fact, following school rules can be very 143. For example, running in the hallways could cause a student to 144. It may hurt himself or another person. Following the rules can also help the students in the classroom to learn 145 difficulty. In class, a teacher may ask students to raise their hands 146 they speak. If someone speaks out of turn, other students might not be able to hear the teacher 147. School rules can help students 148 their own futures as well. When they 149 and go out on their own, they'll soon find that they still need to follow rules.

Rules make the world much better. If there are no rules, life will be meaningless and out of 150.

Jatto's mother was doing housework while Jatto was reading a book aloud in English. Jatto didn't always like 151 to his mother. She spoke only Esan, one of the languages in Nigeria. Wasn't it a waste of time to read to someone who couldn't understand? His mother didn't even realize when he made 152. Still, she insisted he read aloud every day.

"Let's bottle nuts when you finish reading," she said in Esan.

Jatto shook his head. He had so much homework to do. "I'll never finish reading."

Jatto said "never" in English because there was no word for never in Esan.

"What's 'never'?" she asked.

Jatto cleared his throat to 153 the English word. "It means I won't stop reading today, tomorrow, or 154." He drew circles in the air. "Nor the day after the day after tomorrow, the day after the day after, the day after ..."

"Oh, OK! That's forever," his mother said.

Jatto stared at the nuts. Each one looked delicious.

Now would be a 155 time to eat some. But he couldn't ask. He remembered the 156 he'd drawn in the air.

Jatto's mother whistled. Tam-tam, their cow, came up to them. Jatto could 157 cow-milk air as his mother milked her. Tam-tam's milk was the best he'd ever tasted.

Jatto needed to take his mind off the 158. "Mama, why do you make me read to you even though you don't understand?"

"I want you to practice speaking English often," she said.

"I can practice English in my head," he said, not 159.

His mother smiled. "We share our stories aloud with others, not in our heads where 160 can hear them."

Jatto nodded. He'd learned about that in school.

She decided to tell him a story and handed him some nuts and milk. "You can eat 161 I talk."

He ate as she started. Soon, Jatto was singing the story with his mother.

"You never tell me stories," he said when they stopped 162.

She sighed. "I used to, but when you started school, I wanted you to focus on English."

"I make a lot of mistakes when I read to you," Jatto said.

His mother 163. "I guessed so. But I like hearing the sound of your voice while I work."

Jatto knew what she meant. He had enjoyed listening to her story as he bottled the nuts. It made the work seem 164. "I have an idea," he said. "Next time, I will read a story to you in English, then I will tell you the same story in Esan. We can even make up songs together."

"Great! And I will tell you stories in Esan and you can say them back to me in English. Let's 'never' stop 165 stories."

Jatto smiled. His mother's understanding of never was even better than his own.

186 she could answer, a customer hurried over, holding a black sweater. "How much is this?" she asked.

Now Daniel was 187. Would the saleswoman help him?

"Just a moment, please," the saleswoman said to the customer. "We have a lost boy here." She turned to Daniel, "Don't worry." she said, "I will 188 Mr. Henson, our store security guard (保安). He will help find your mom."

The customer smiled at Daniel. "I will bet your mom is looking for you. too." she said. Daniel hadn't thought of that! Mom would be looking for him, and now she would know 189 to find him. He felt better.

While they were waiting for Mr. Henson, the saleswoman gave Daniel a green lollipop (棒棒糖). Although green was Daniel's 190, he did not feel like eating at the moment.

Soon here came Mr. Henson. He put his hand on Daniel's shoulder. "What's your name, little boy?" he asked. Daniel told him. Then Mr. Henson asked. "What's your mom's name?" "Mom," but he 191 that Mr. Henson meant Mom's other name, the one adults called her. "Her name is Amy Wilkerson." he said.

"Good job!" Mr. Henson said. The saleswoman smiled.

Mr. Henson said he would make an announcement that could be 192 all through the store. He pushed buttons on a special telephone, then said, "Will Ms. Amy Wilkerson please come to ladies' 193 on the second floor? Your son is waiting for you here."

Mr. Henson's voice was strong, and the store's music 194 stopped playing when he made the announcement. Mom must have heard him. And she really had. Soon Daniel saw her running toward him.

Mom held Daniel close. "I was worried." she said. "Me too." Daniel said. "But I 195 what you taught me." He told Mom about Mr. Henson and the saleswoman.

Then he gave Mom the lollipop, because green was her favorite, too.

There is a fine line between a parent who is active and open-minded and one that doesn't know when to let go. As my daughter, Nicole, prepares to leave home for college, I'm discovering how hard it is to stay on the 271 side of this line. When I 272 onto the strings connecting us, Nicole, hoping to 273 independence (独立) tries to get out of my control. What 274 is an embarrassing mother-daughter, push-me, pull-you kind of tango(探戈).

For the past two years, it's gone like this: My question: "Have you thought of taking an advanced placement class(高阶课程) so that you can earn college marks?" Nicole's answer: "No, I'm not interested in that."

Two months ago, she was going to 275 a great university. However, I was still the mother having a 276 time letting go. The night before the introductory meeting of the university, I had read the course list carefully and 277 the courses which I thought looked good. We met on the campus the next afternoon, and Nicole's face lit up with 278. "I have had all my courses figured out," she said. "Already?" I was surprised, thinking she should have discussed them with me. I looked at the ones again. Nicole hadn't taken a single one of the courses I had suggested. (2023·江苏淮安·统考一模) When I was a little girl, all I wanted to do was play. Sometimes, I 46 forgot to do my homework. Of course, my class teacher wouldn't turn a blind 47 to this. At that time, I wondered 48 she could spend so much time supervising (监督) me. Didn't she have 49 else to do? So my biggest wish then was to become a 50, for it seemed that a teacher never needed to do any work.

But later, I took more 51 of my class teacher's life. To my great surprise, she was much 52 than I had thought. Whenever I saw her in her office, she would be busy 53. Sometimes, she was correcting 54 test papers; sometimes, she was having a heart-to-heart talk with a student; sometimes, she was preparing for her 55. It seemed she 56 had time to take a rest!

I felt curious as to why my teacher was always able to be so 57, though she was busy all day long. Gradually, I realized that teaching was a rewarding job. It brings a teacher a sense of 58 to be able to nourish (培育) many young minds. A teacher would always feel 59 upon seeing his or her students go from expressing puzzlement to understanding all the difficult points.

60 being a teacher can be tiring, I still want to be a teacher. Perhaps I have a long way to go, but I will keep fighting for this dream.

be busy....”及下文的描述判断，老师应该是很忙的。故选 C。

53. 句意：每当我在她的办公室看到她，她总是忙着工作。

eating 吃； playing 玩； thinking 思考； working 工作。根据下文“Sometimes,....; sometimes, ...; sometimes,”可知，这里指老师总是忙着工作。故选 D。

54. 句意：有时，她在批改我们的试卷。

her 她的； their 他们的； your 你的； our 我们的。根据“my class teacher’s life”可知，这里是老师在批改我们的试卷。故选 D。

55. 句意：有时，她在备课。

dinner 晚餐； lessons 课； clothes 衣服； tools 工具。由上文的介绍可知，作者关注的是老师的生活，因此这里是看到老师在备课。故选 B。

56. 句意：她似乎从来没有时间休息！

never 从不； always 总是； usually 通常； often 经常。上文说作者看到老师有时批改试卷，有时与学生谈心，有时备课，因此她认为老师从来没有休息过。故选 A。

57. 句意：我很好奇，为什么我的老师整天都很忙，却总是那么精力充沛。

humorous 幽默的； polite 有礼貌的； energetic 精力充沛的； special 特殊的。根据“though she was busy all day long.”可知，这里是指老师整天都很忙，却还总是那么精力充沛。故选 C。

58. 句意：能够滋养许多年轻人的心灵，这会给老师带来成就感。

achievement 成就； humour 幽默； direction 方向； speed 速度。根据“be able to nourish (培育) many young minds.”可知，这是给老师带来的成就感。故选 A。

59. 句意：看到学生们从困惑到理解所有的难点，老师总是会感到自豪。

excited 激动的； curious 好奇的； nervous 焦虑的； proud 自豪的。根据“seeing his or her students go from expressing puzzlement to understanding all the difficult points.”可知，这里是指老师感到自豪。故选 D。

60. 句意：尽管当老师很累，但我还是想当老师。

Because 因为； Although 尽管； As 由于； If 如果。分析句子结构可知，这里是由 although 引导的条件状语从句，空处表示“尽管”。故选 B。
